Imposing a request for more money from already cash strapped residents of Arizona is just wrong. We are in the 21st century and if APS can't figure out how to provide their widely used services without continually burdening customers financially...then new science needs to be investigated, by new researchers! Is it a plan by APS to force people to go to renewable power sources? If so, then make renewable resources reasonable and attainable. Arizona could become the first state in the country to make every home and business 'green', if they really wanted to. Its time companies stopped making the public pay for their inadequacies.
